Alone we can do so little ,Together we can do so much !

“Coming together is a beginning. Keeping together is progress. Working together is success “- Henry Ford Chennai breast centre came together in July 2009. And since then we have travelled a short but a sweet journey together .

The sense of ownership and responsibility is amazing. Together we realised that boundaries are set by us and therefore can be pushed and pushed ... and achieve excellence.

My mother Mrs. Soundiram is the mother hen to whom we all go to with all our troubles and she always extends her hand and offers help in her own little way. Her kitchen is always open for us and for the odd hungry patient as well!

Together we organized national conferences without the need for expensive event managers

Together we have made a difference to over 1300 women who have had breast cancer.

Together we have published books and articles in journals.

Together we have created awareness among public.

Together we have helped the needy with treatment.

Together we have won awards.

Together we have had fun.

Together we have celebrated each others success and milestones
